Comments :

I'm still not certain why I was compelled to purchase this policy, beyond just wanting extra protection for my long drives to and from work, but I am extremely glad that I made the decision to do so. In fact, I nearly canceled the policy just prior to a vacation to Puerto Rico. A vacation that quickly turned into a nightmare when I slipped on wet tile and broke my femur. My leisurely vacation quickly turned into an adventure of survival as I made my way back to Houston for surgery. I received a large amount of metal hardware surgically installed in my leg and was in the hospital for 6 days before flying home to Colorado for follow up treatments and physical therapy. I have still not been back to work and am still going to physical therapy. In fact, I was not allowed to bear weight for over 6 weeks. Having this policy has allowed me to focus on getting healed, and not on getting back to work. I very well could have lost my home if not for this policy, and I am so very grateful that I got myself covered. I thank God that I didn't cancel it! Everyone should take a look at these Family Heritage policies for themselves and their family.

(If necessary, please continue on the other side.)

This Authorization may be revoked by written request to Family Heritage, except to the extent that Family Heritage has taken action in reliance on the authorization. The information that is used or disclosed pursuant to this Authorization may be redisclosed by its recipients and may not retain any legal protections. This Authorization may be used for marketing insurance to prospective customers and if those customers purchase insurance, Family Heritage will receive remuneration in the form of premium payments.
